Awards

CIIF is an important window to observe China's real economy, and the annual CIIF Awards also represent the highest level of "Made in China". As the only major industry exhibition of the awards function in China approved by the State Council, this year's CIIF Awards has been internationally benchmarked and has undergone reform and innovation.

In terms of awards-setting, the names of the CIIF Awards have been uniformly adjusted to "China International Industry Fair Awards" ("CIIF Awards"); the number of the Awards has been significantly reduced, and the gold content of the Awards has been further improved; at the same time, professional awards were set up at the Robotics Show, the Industrial Automation Show, and the New Materials Industry Show during the exhibition.

In the end, CIIF Awards were given for 10 exhibits. 9 of the exhibits were from local companies, and most of them were involved with "No.1 in the World", "A Creation in the World", "Reaching the World's Advanced Level" and etc., and significant advances have been made in the industry, breaking up the monopoly of foreign companies in related industries.
